In Recognition Of Rebecca Richardson

We add to the expression of respect for Mrs. Richardson given by a colleague, an expression of respect due from her students.

We have been encouraged to take risks with our writing, compelled to get behind our words, and reminded with consistent emphasis of the fundamentals of good writing.

She has bred in us a desire to take what a text has to offer and expand and reach beyond its meaning, and to become aware of the world around by incorporating different points of view.

Mrs. Richardson has shown her devotion to us and given us tremendous support. She has done more than instruct English, she has motivated each of us to pursue individual growth in terms of writing, reading, and thinking.

For these reasons we recognize Rebecca Richardson as an outstanding member of the JBS faculty.

One of only three John Burroughs School faculty members in recent memory to be asked by the seniors to give the faculty address at the senior assembly after only two years of service, Rebecca Richardson deserves and elicits great respect.

Upon first arriving at our school, Mrs. Richardson was presented with a difficult, unanticipated challenge: having planned to join the English Department as the writing coach, instead she would up with the department's most difficult, least traditional courses and a full-time load. She has contributed to the on-going evolution of that course; she has labored loyally beyond reasonable expectation.

Mrs. Richardson receives our respect, because her students appreciate the tremendous energy she freely gives — in conferences, in recommendations, in teaching, in supervising the Review, in caring. Her interest in her students defies categorization, defies accusation. With a nature soft-spoken, poised, and apolitical, Mrs. Richardson's guidance aims steadily at the improvement of her students' reading and writing. With a nature candid, thoughtful, and sensitive, her support orients to the emergent character of her students. She directs individuals individually; she loves to assist with growth.

That a teacher deserve and elicit our respect is the most that can be asked. We take this opportunity to express that respect. — Ian Frederick

In Recognition Of Alice Snodgrass

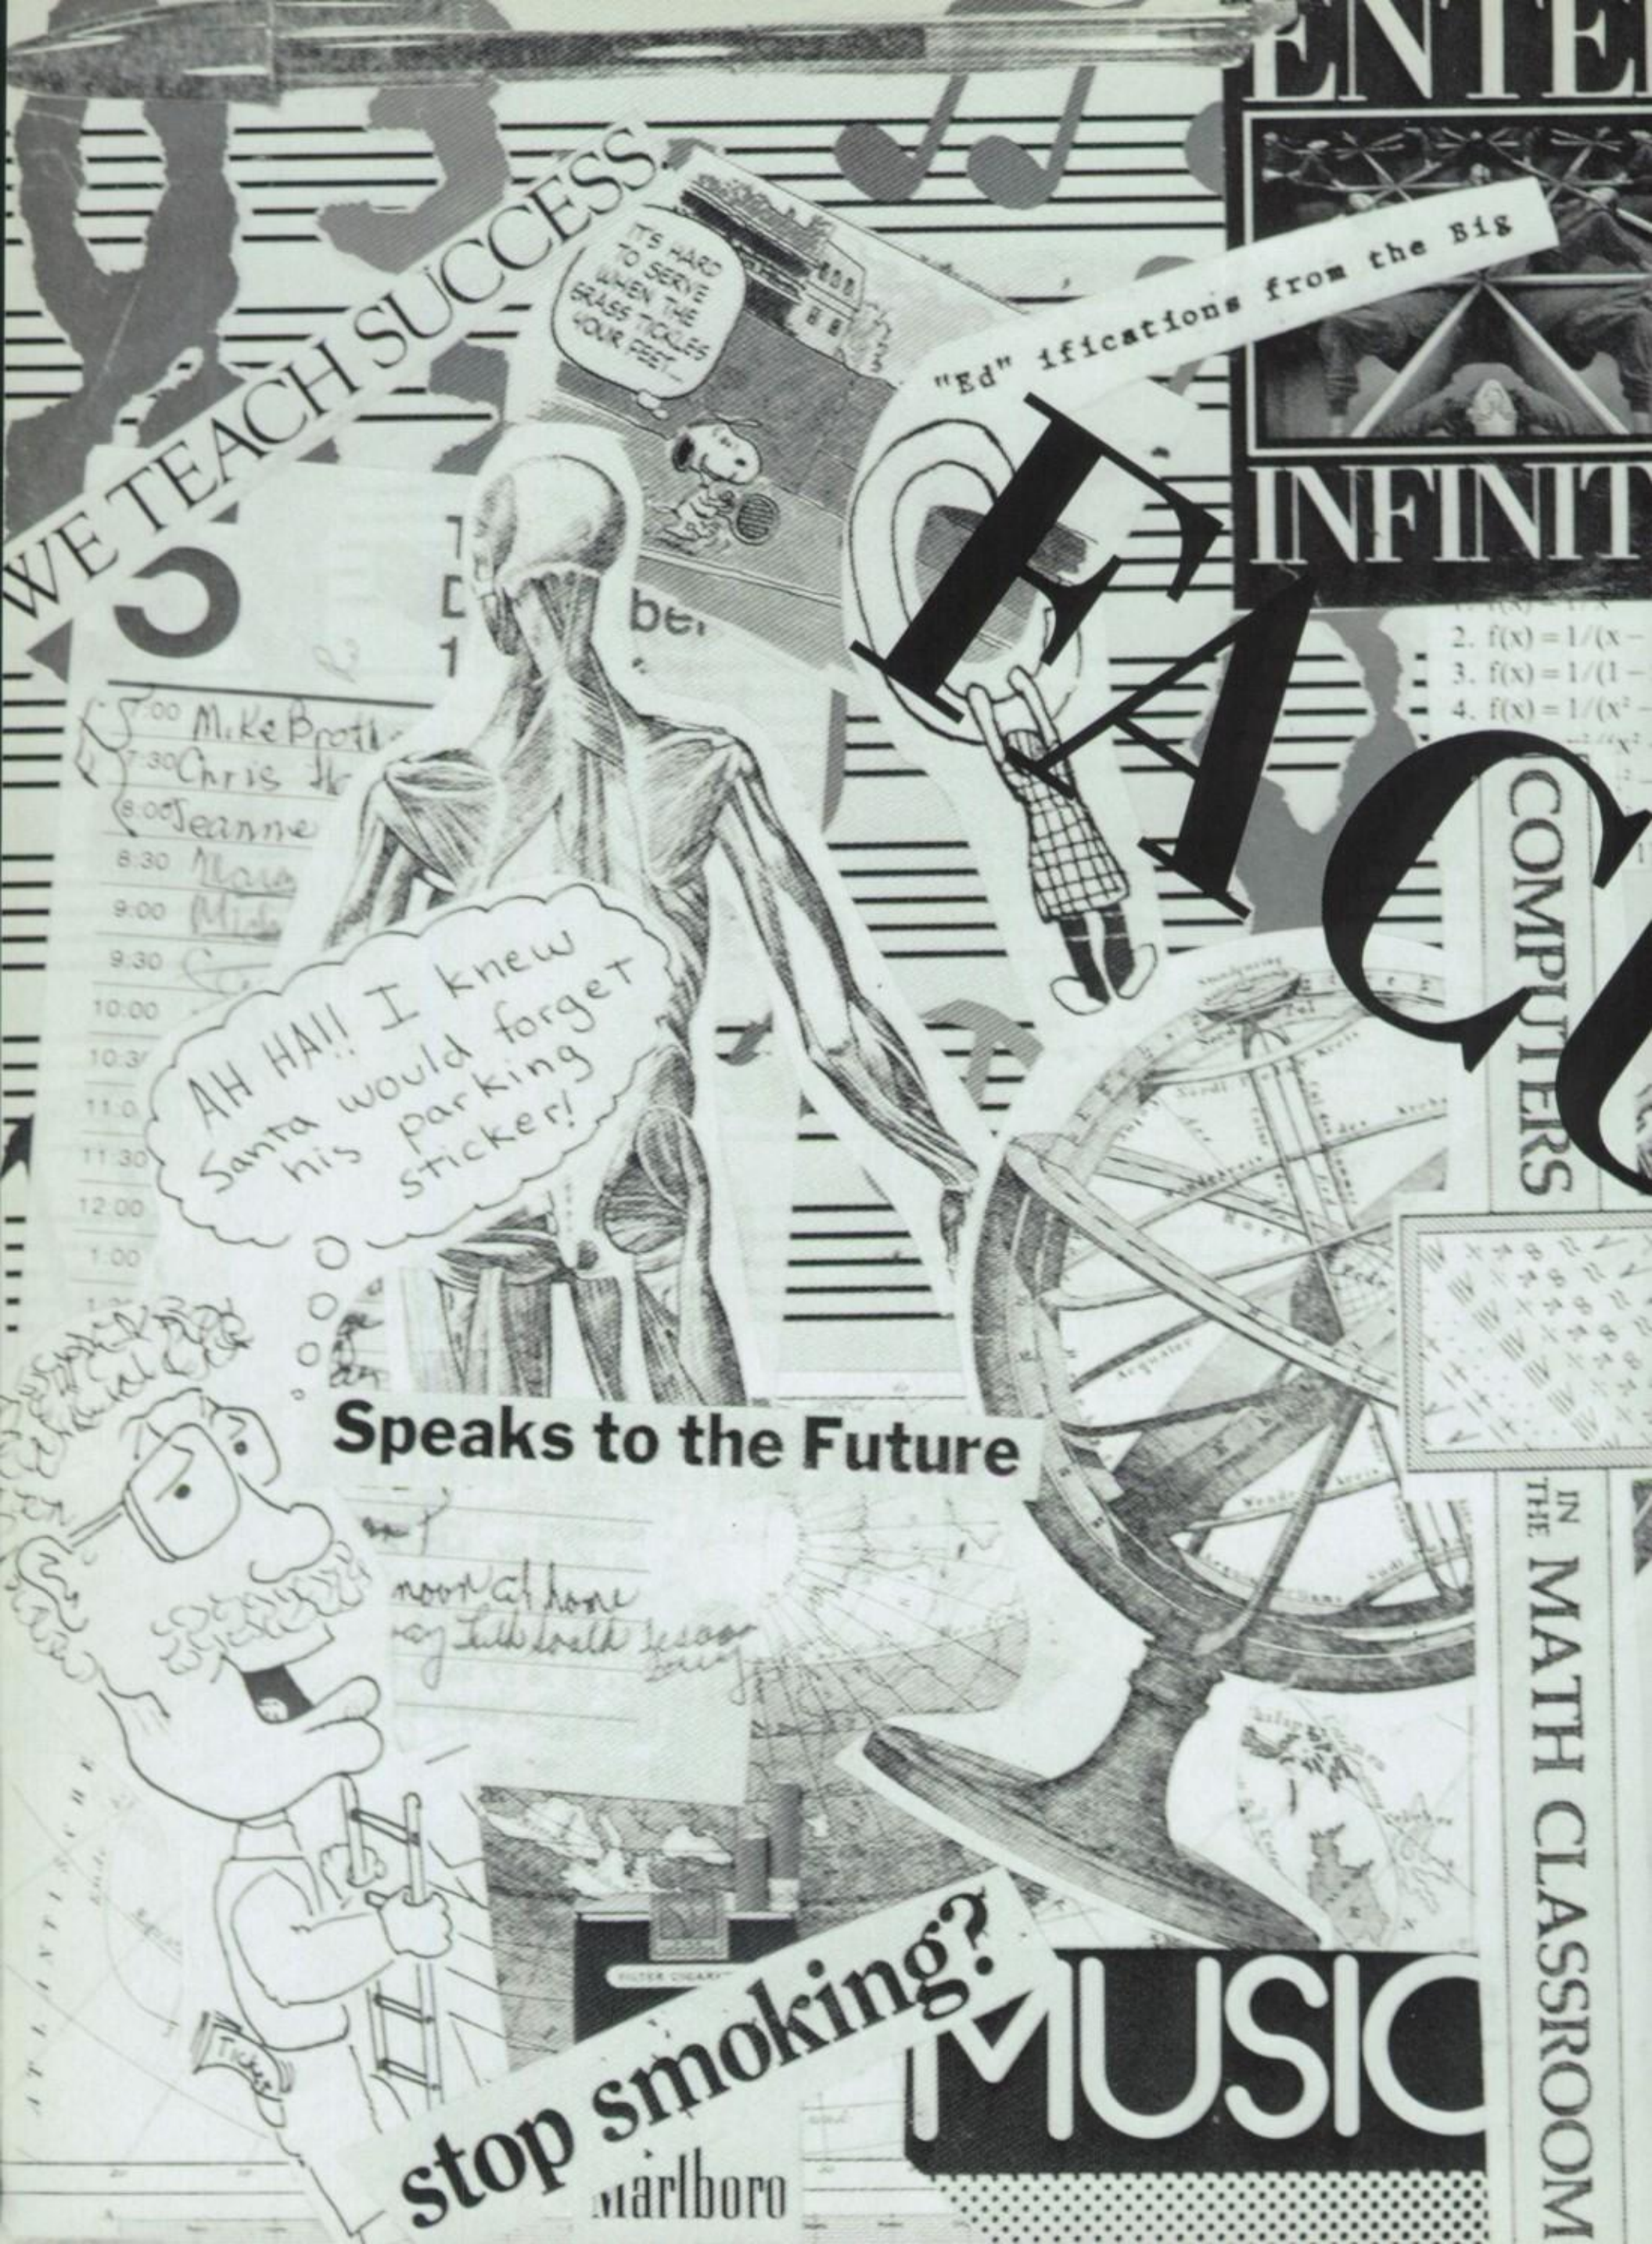

When you enter her classroom you immediately sense the warm intensity of the deeply caring and concerned teacher who inhabits that space. Alice Snodgrass has a genuine love for her subject-mathematics. Daily she delights in making mathematics become alive and stimulating for her students. Mrs. Snodgrass encourages, challenges, and helps her students until they, too, can share in the feelings of excitement and pleasure that come when one finally is enlightened and able to write a crisp and creative solution to a particularly complex and perplexing problem in mathematics. She is always there, willing and ready to support and help build in each of her students the self-confidence that is necessary to be successful in mathematics. The warm feeling that comes from being deeply cared about causes students to often spend their free periods in Mrs. Snodgrass' room working or talking with her about mathematics of life in general. She is able to develop a strong feeling of pride among her students for their workmanship in mathematics. She is able to bring students to the point where they are the masters of mathematics rather than the mathematics being the master.

Mrs. Snodgrass expects much of herself, her students, and her colleagues. Due to her patience and her intense encouragement she is able to help others achieve standards and goals that they themselves did not, at first, think possible. She is a superb motivator. One of the highest compliments that a mathematics teacher can be given by a student is if that student so enjoyed the creative processes that went on in class that he or she wants to take more mathematics. Many of Mrs. Snodgrass' students do, in fact, go on and take advanced mathematics courses in college. Indeed, it is an intellectual treat to take a mathematics course taught by Mrs. Snodgrass. — Eric Hanson

Her genuine love for mathematics, her ability to motivate, and her desire for each student to attain success in math have been recognized by her colleagues and felt by her students.

Mrs. Snodgrass elicits great respect and establishes authority in a quiet tone and thus, extends the warmth of her personality into the classroom. She handles a full schedule of demanding classes, but gives to each her unfaltering attention. Mrs. Snodgrass does more than give of herself in the classroom; she frequently opens her valuable and little free time to students in need of advice or comfort. She offers herself as a friend. We are glad to take this opportunity to recognize Alice Snodgrass for her devotion to teaching mathematics and for her devotion to people.

In Dedication To Edward And Jane Cissel

Headmaster 1967-1986

Smiling shyly, the small boys advanced across the lawn to greet the guests and escort them to their parents, the new headmaster and his wife. This was my first encounter with Jane. I knew immediately that I liked her. Open and friendly, she seemed the perfect companion for her shy but intense husband, Ed.

The auditorium was crowded with parents. It was an evening meeting to explain the controversial pioneer movement to open the school to an exchange program with an inner city school, a response to the Civil Rights movement of the sixties. I knew we had a leader with courage and integrity when Ed put his future on the line in support of the program.

Standing in the pristine snow, we watched as Ed dropped over the icy edge of the cliff and repelled down its face to where we waited, just one of our adventures on that weekend, as we tested his idea of instituting Outdoor Education at JBS.

As usual, the students were restless as they listened to the morning announcements in the auditorium, but they became more attentive as Ed left the podium and walked to the hall door. Taking a small bundle from Jane, he returned to the edge of the stage and proudly introduced Sarah, his first grandchild, which drew an affectionate response from the audience.

Ed's feet hit the rough floor of the cabin a split second before mine. We had both heard the car coming down the dirt road into camp. Slipping out of the cabin where others slept, we made our way to the lodge. Gretta was fine; the bite of the copperhead snake would give her no problem. At two-thirty in the morning, another long and eventful day in the life of the headmaster came to an end.

It was often very difficult for that very humane man to harmonize the school community of highly diverse individuals which comprised the Burroughs family, but his courage, his integrity, his willingness to seek new ways, and his consistent concern for each student carried him to success.

And behind it all, there was Jane, who, for him, made it all possible.

Dora Tickner

It is very hard to be totally objective about a man one has lived with for forty-three years. I have to say he is one of the fairest men I've ever known, totally unprejudiced. He looks at a person as a person in his own right, whether old, young, rich, poor, black or white. He is also completely committed to any job he takes on and is always thinking creatively about better ways to improve his work. And he expects the best in those around him, family and colleagues. He has a very soft-hearted side to him, compassionate and sentimental. I will have to say life has never been boring with Edward W. Cissel.

Jane Cissel

I gained two very good friends when Jane and Ed Cissel came to Burroughs. We have shared celebrations and sorrows. They are always nearby when needed.

Margaret Schmidt

Among the several images in our recollection of him should be one of a man of such personal force and executive talent that his rewards in the business world would have been assured; a man who chose instead a commitment to an educational ideal through service to the independent school.

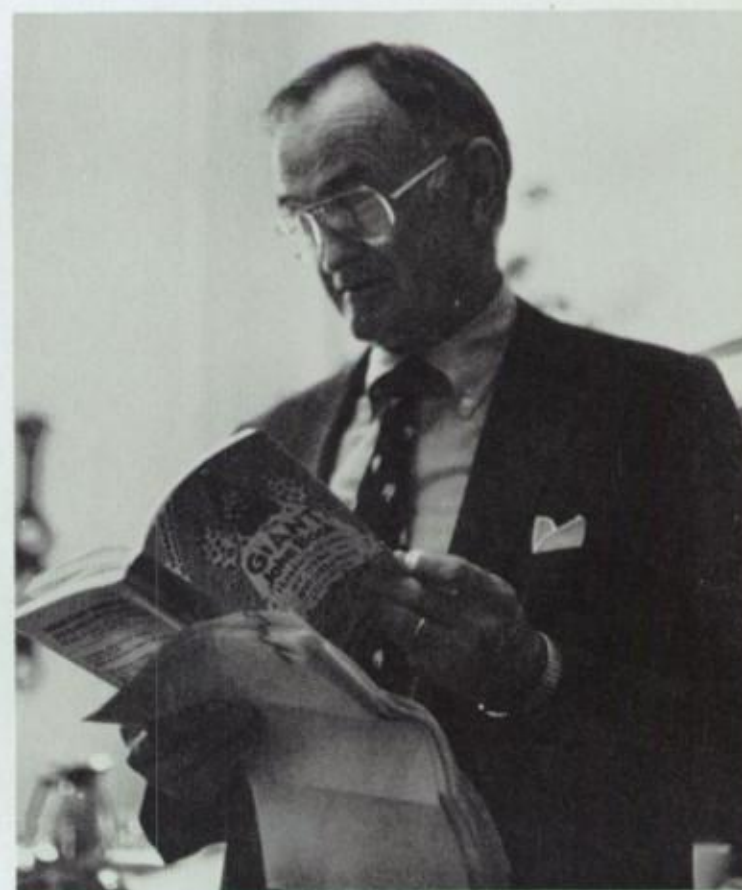

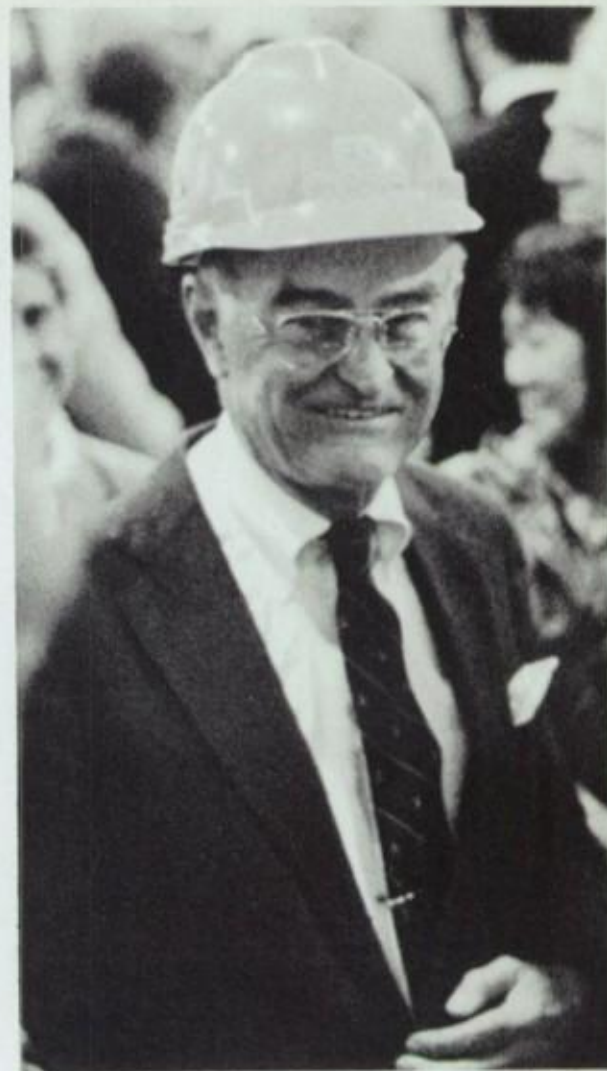

Burroughs teachers will remember him, in part for his implicit support of free inquiry in the classroom; for his encouragement of research or travel as professional enrichment; and for the warm hospitality of the home he made with his gracious and lovely wife Jane.

Anonymous

Burroughs may have flaws, but complacency is not one of them; this, in my mind, is Ed Cissel's greatest gift to our community. Common sense, compassion, vision, and a tenacious pursuit of excellence: these are the hallmarks of the Cissel Years. The underpinning for all these traits is respect for growth. Ed Cissel's respect for growth appears everywhere: not satisfied with Burrough's position as a great and respected Midwestern independent school, he has led it into the ranks of the top independent schools in the nation: he has never stopped looking for ways to stretch himself, and in so doing, he has encouraged those around him to stretch themselves; he has served as mentor to many: faculty, staff, students, colleagues. Because of his leadership, John Burroughs School-and all its consituencies - can rise to even greater heights. We have learned to share his respect for growth.

Recognized as one of the nation's outstanding headmasters, Ed is preparing for his next assignment. While this may be called retirement, it is hard to believe that he will ever really "retire." We wish Ed and Jane (whose respect for growth parallels and nurtures his) all the best as they move on to their next assignment.

Robert A. Sortland
Assistant Headmaster

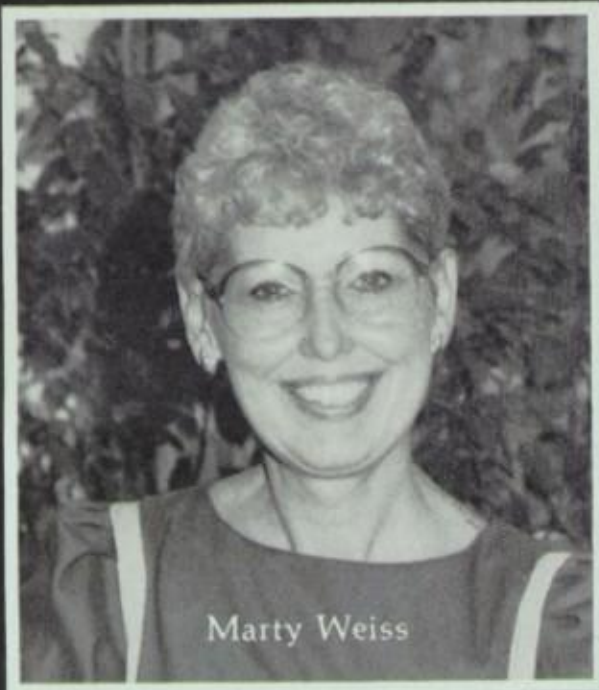

He welcomed us to school with a warm handshake, knew all of our first names by the third week of school, ate lunch with us 5th period, and introduced himself as a friend. He came to our athletic contest, praised us for our accomplishments, corrected us for our faults, gave us freedoms, but still managed to keep order. He reminded us of our ability to contribute to society, encouraged us to look beyond ourselves and to take risks. He greeted us almost every morning for six years, had a joke on occasion, and sometimes even got a laugh. All the time he was getting us to feel, to react, to care; and he gave us an example, himself, and he shared his love. His impact has been felt deeply and this is to say nothing of his legacy to Burroughs. Now he joins with us again, to graduate from JBS and to move on to a new part of life.

A long bridge crossed. Many diversions, yet I've reached the end. Thousands of bridges left. Linda-I've never driven through so many subdivisions in my life! A charter member of the Sweet Seventeen Club, right, Mary? Oh well, when we fall we'll fall hard. And you will get to see our house. Lucy-I wish you the best of luck-but I still don't understand what toot is! Smitch, I'm glad your dad was O.K. I enjoyed Boomer and his legs, and his house, of course. Driver's Ed- oops! There goes another pedestrian. Linda-what does cross traffic does not stop mean? Our Complex. Or was it Joelyn's? Finesse versus Force. I still say Force-more consistent. One down, one to go. I'm sorry. Colorado-can we have champagne for her birthday? The man with grape juice on the lifts. We can't get off when there are three?! Fire!! This is smoke? Let's find his room. Mary Beth, the cork flew across the street, honestly! A midnight walk with shopping carts. Mom-I think it would be a good idea if I spent the night. You're right, writing is just polished BS. Dave who? You saw him on T.V., huh? Physics parties, Math parties, Parties. Mary, when you get the chance, dance with a stranger. I've had a great time Arnie and Ada! Thanks, and I love you. Apocalypse- Oh, gross! I am not getting off this boat. Nor will I. Debbie(the Snob) and Christine and Melissa- you've made life more interesting, to say the least. Linda, next time I'll go in by myself. You make me laugh too much. Saskia-keep the bubbles flowing! I hope you have a great six years at Burroughs. I know you will. Thank you, Linda, for knocking me down a few notches when I need it. But by the way, it's your turn to get the acid. Alyssa, you're a wonderful person. Please don't ever believe differently. You have more to offer yourself and others than you could ever imagine. I'm looking forward to a lifetime of friendship with you. Tears and smiles make the world go 'round. Thanks for sharing them with me, mom and dad. I love you.

I've been through enough to know that no one can make it on their own. More than anything else I acknowledge my friends and the people who care about me for all their support; without them I never would have made it. Especially

SHEREE: My other half; we've shared so much that I know you will always be my bestest bud.

AMYA: Can you believe we made it?! Thanks for helping me find my Twinkies in time for lunch.

KATE, SMUSH-FACE: Thanks for the crazy times, the listening, and the putting up with me; this isn't goodbye because I know there's more to come.

PEDRO: You will always be my friend; we'll figure things out yet. (by the way, yo te quiero mucho) I mean it.

J.E.: How do I thank someone who kept me going when I felt like giving up. You saved my life.

MOM&DAD: Don't worry so much. I love you both.

I cannot say goodbye to six years of my life. Some experiences will have a lasting impact while many will become trivial; but life goes on. We need only look ahead and hope that the best is yet to come. Let's go get 'em boys and girls.

Who is it this year, Jess?

Everyone

How did you get a nickname like Vanessa? It's a long story, I don't want to talk about it. Finally got to Mingo. Watch that right hook, Mr T; it's a killer. You were playing what? Just what I said, Charged particles. I don't believe it! An ambush. I'll get you yet WM. Hey, this is great, why didn't I do this sooner? Deutsch mit Heidi warte viel Spaß. Likes to quote favorite comedians; this reminds me of a Garfield I once read ... Ask anyone what I laugh like and they'll all tell you something different. LC, we've got fifteen years behind us; still goin' strong! Both D-lands were great; '85 was a vintage year. Ruth und Bernd, ich sehe euch bald, gell? It sounded like a normal recording, but no; Greetings Earth Unit! I could do better, right MB? Regardless of what anyone says, I love you: LC,JG, BS,CK,CT, NH,KS,KF, MB,EI,JK, and esp. M.J.

Thanks Dad, Mom, Martin, and Eric ... I love you all.

"Perhaps as you look at my picture you wonder why I'm in a graveyard. Well, I'll tell you; I'm in the graveyard because graveyards make it easy for all of us to see how much we have in common. We can clearly see that we're mortals with amazingly short lifetimes. No matter what you or I do, we're both going to end up looking the same to a vast universe. I imagine that after a millennium people on this planet won't even care whether we were one person or two people. As far as they will be concerned, we have everything in common.

I think that in high school you and I probably forgot that we had much at all in common. Many of you thought I was very different (maybe even strange). I probably agreed that you were extremely different from me. Sometimes this even made me mad, because I thought you were different from me in a bad way. I guess this was sort of silly, wasn't it?

Luckily, a few of you got to know me pretty well, and I got to know a few of you. It's sad, but there's just no way for us to know more than a few people in one lifetime. Anyway, whenever we got to know each other it became a lot easier for us to tolerate our differences. I even suspect that, if we could get to know everyone, we would become more tolerant and less angry towards people. Oh, we'd still get angry about things that happened, but hate and fear towards people would be less common. Maybe we should try to be more understanding and caring about all the people in this world. This could make up for not getting to know so many of them.

Now, if you start seeing the world with a very caring mind I think you'll see that it needs some really big changes. I know that things seem to be going well for us, but that does not mean the rest of the world is headed in the right direction. I think it would be just fantastic if we Burroughs students could push the world toward some big changes for the benefit of everyone. So please, do your part." -Eric

I believe, like totally, in America and cheese cake. Wow! Everything is so awesome! I mean, like where else in the whole universe could an illegitimate wop-chink chick become a doctor and drive a Mercedes and own two condos, 2 ski-lodges in Aspen and a Nieman Marcus credit card! Like isn't it totally awesome!? I believe in Ronnie and Nancy, too. And shopping. And brie and champagne. And, like, give me Calvin Klein or give me death, you know! Life is so terrific! Like I'm really committed to it! Wow! I just want to have fun where ever I go and whatever I do?

I still find each day too short for all the thoughts I want to think.

All the walks I want to take,
 All the Books I want to read,
 And All the friends I want to see.

The Longer I live the more my mind dwells upon the Beauty and the wonder of the world.

I came to Burroughs in ninth grade from Parkway East with Allison, Linda and Randy a shy and quiet boy. Played (tried) C-Football, and was lucky to make it out alive. Made some good friends and had some good times. Alvi for history with Keith and Doug, Geometry with Randy, Houghton with the gang, and dreyland with Chris and late-night writing. In tenth, it was cross-country, 1st period English papers, 16th B-day parties, late night rambling, and golfing in Florida with Doug. (Thanks Mr & Mrs Zimring). Eleventh brought a good friend from the styx. There was Physics with Taylor, Dan and Greg, C.C. a second year, rambling with Keith to who knows where, Hanson math tests, computer math, "just one more push!", Close-Up with Corey, Chris, Scott, and two girls from St. Joes, the 800 in track, Prom with an awesome gal (slyam), and the ski trip with the Raichles. Drainpipe, Far East, East Wall, "How do you open a banana?", measuring the angle, and stealing the sign. School ended, went water skiing, had an unexpected visitor: "this reminds me ...", Habitat third year, will always remember, early morning skiing in the fog, almost ran into the shore, moved into a new house, tramping and late night talks, hole #8, and August Days with Earl and Mikel, who taught me a lot. Finally we became seniors; more skiing, Oct. 26, playing soccer, making it to Jeff City the easy way, running around the capital at 3 am, and my first marathon. Got lucky and had an older sister to show me the way, and a younger sister who cared. Thanks Mom & Dad for being there to support me, and thanks also to Greg, Keith, Tim, Dan, Chris, James, Randy, and Doug, without whom it would have been unbearable. Good-luck Sue, you're next. I hope you liked how I turned out.

Letter For The Class Of 1986

In March, 1980, when the Admissions Committee completed its decisions for the seventh grade, I was excited about the prospect of having an outstanding group of girls and boys to be the senior class in my last year. As I write this letter six years later, I find that prediction to be true. Perhaps I had a few doubts in grade nine and ten, but these have been dispelled this year so far.

While the State 2A Football Championship is the most publicized event, there have been other equally but less-known important activities contributing to the school year. The seniors' contributions to the Glee Club and to the Volunteer Program have boosted those activities, and I look forward to a successful talent show and yearbook later in the year. The academic performance of the class continues the school's reputation as a challenging institution for both the able and less able.

The Class of 1986 is coming into "its own." The growth in individual and collective responsibility is exciting to watch. I have great hope in what the members of this class will contribute to their world - in college and in the "real" world. It will be fun to reminisce in 1996 when the class has its tenth reunion. I'm sure there will be many significant contributions to society by the members of the class of 1986.

E. Prepares for Take-Off

Prom 1985

The junior class of 1985 threw a prom without rain, an amazing feat as far as the Burroughs Prom is concerned. The place: the Chase. The band: Hostage. Dinner was included-innovative-but not to be imitated. The choice: chicken or beef tornados. Is that tornado as in hurricane?-synonymous with disaster? Might as well have been! Haskins said, "You must be present by 7:30 if you wish to attend." We complied-after 1 ½ hours it was time to go somewhere else-take a ride. After Prom party parent planned, turned out fun, in fact quite good. Washington University Club at 12 midnight, we gambled, ate, and danced in sheer delight. Reports of prom goers not sleeping until 10:00 PM buzzed through school. The consensus: Prom '85 was cool!

Burroughs 6 Duchesne 13

Despite physically outplaying and statistically outgaining the Pioneers, the Bombers opened on a sour note. The Bombers' offense drove deep into Duchesne territory several times only to see all but one drive end in either a missed field goal or a failed fourth down conversion. Defensively, the Bombers played well but gave up two long touchdowns which proved to be fatal.

Burroughs 6 Valle 13

For the second week in a row, running back Bryan Keys ran for over 100 yards. And for the second week in a row, JBS lost 13-6. The Bombers only score came at the beginning of the third period after an impressive drive. The Warriors, meanwhile, constantly came up with the big play when necessary, including an interception in the endzone as time ran out.

Burroughs 41 Borgia 7

With an 0-2 record, the Bombers travelled to Washington, Mo. to play undefeated Borgia. The Knights fell prey to a hungry Bomber team which needed the victory. Keys ran for almost 200 yards while Britt Vaughn scored three times in the rout. A shutout was averted by Borgia only when the football slipped through the hands of a Bomber defender into those of a Knight late in the game.

Burroughs 23 Pembroke Hill 0

After a two year hiatus, these two schools resumed their traditional rivalry. Burroughs stunned its undefeated host as JBS thoroughly dominated the game. The Red Raiders came close to scoring only once while Burroughs failed on eight plays from inside the three yard line. This JBS win represented the only Pembroke loss of the whole season up until its loss in the 3A finals.

Burroughs 21 Lutheran South 7

Going into the game, the Bombers assumed that Lutheran South would be a tough opponent. However, the Lancers gave Burroughs little trouble. South scored its touchdown with less than a minute to play, well after the game had been decided. Keys again ran for over 100 yards as the Bombers improved their record to 3-2.

Burroughs 21 Lutheran North 7

The Crusaders visited the Bomberdome with an undefeated mark and a #2 ranking in the state of Missouri. They left torn and battered as Burroughs whipped them all day long. Keys had one of his biggest days ever, scoring three touchdowns, while the defense gave up only one big play. Once again, the Bombers had proved to themselves and to everyone that they were championship material.

Burroughs 21 Principia 14

The Bombers figured that Principia would be the biggest test of the Bombers ability to that point in the season. And they were right. They played well, but won by only one touchdown, and had to hold off a fierce Panther passing attack late in the game to preserve their lead. Once again Mr. Dependable, Bryan Keys was able to outdo his performance of the previous week by having another more than outstanding day.

Burroughs 14 Priory 17

In the eyes of the Bombers, the Priory game would be the easiest of the season, and it looked that way through the first half of the game. But the Rebels came up with a few "lucky" plays that had Bomber jaws dragging on the ground. Burroughs was never able to completely regain its composure and their winning streak was snapped at five.

CDS/Playoffs

Burroughs 20 Codasco 25

As always, the CDS-JBS game was one of the most exciting games of the year. Unfortunately for the Bombers, however, the Rams came out on top. Throughout the game, the Bomber offense consistently drove on Country Day. But the Ram defense never gave up the big play and held Burroughs to three well-earned touchdowns. On the other side of the ball, Codasco had only four impressive plays as the Burroughs defense played aggressively. Those four plays, though, resulted in long CDS touchdowns, including a 75-yard run by Mike Mayweather in the final period that ended the scoring at 25-20. After holding its ground on defense, Country Day ran out the clock to preserve the win and an ABC League championship. The Rams, who ended 12-1, went on to win the 3A state title while the Bombers, despite their mediocre record, advanced into the 2A playoffs.

District, Quarter

The Perryville St. Vincent Indians came into the opening playoff game undefeated and ranked number one in the state. All season long, the Indians had used a physical running game to wear down their opponents. But against Burroughs, the Indians got a taste of some of their own medicine as the Bombers beat them to a pulp. Despite muddy conditions, Bryan Keys ran for 160 yards and three touchdowns, including a 65-yard run in the third period which put the game out of reach. Burroughs also shut down the Indians' potent wishbone attack in recording the shutout. The final score was 20-0.

Then, the following Monday night, the Bombers hosted the California Pintos at Duchesne High School. Again, Mother Nature turned the field into a quagmire. And again, the Bombers whipped their opponent. Keys ran for three touchdowns, but the story of the game was the Burroughs defense. Even the second team shut down the Pintos as California gained under fifty yards total offense in the 28-0 Bomber win.

State Champs

Bomber Defense Leads Way To Title

The semi-final contest against the Marcelin Tigers was probably the most physical of the season. Going into the contest, Marceline sported a 12-0 record and the top defense in the state, as it had given up just twelve points all season. They seemed to be so impressive that at least one St. Louis newspaper labeled the game a mismatch. But the Bombers, at 7-4, went out and proved that that record was not indicative of their talents. Fran Charles stunned the Tigers when he caught a touchdown pass late in the first half which gave Burroughs an 8-0 halftime lead. Marceline was further disgruntled when the Bombers opened the third period with an eighty-yard drive that ate nine minutes off the clock. A safety by Bob Dubinsky rounded out the scoring at 16-0. Overall, the Bombers gave up just 57 yards on defense as they headed to the 1985 Show-Me Bowl.

Busch Stadium was the sight of the Show-Me Bowl, and the Bombers played the Plattsburg Tigers on a cold and misty Friday evening. Possibly awed by its surroundings, Burroughs played tentatively in the first half. Only a few lucky breaks gave the Bombers a slim 9-0 lead going into the locker room. But in the second half, Burroughs dominated the contest. Keys tied one Show-Me Bowl record with three touchdowns rushing and broke another with 36 carries. He also gained 192 yards. On defense, the Bombers were equally impressive. Led by Rob Hibbard, Scott Wilkin, and Neil Maune, Burroughs shut out the Tigers up until the waning seconds of the game. A touchdown by Plattsburg represented the only points Burroughs gave up in the entire playoffs. In addition, the defense recorded four fumble recoveries and two interceptions. The 35-8 final score gave Burroughs its third state title in ten years. Congratulations to all the players and coaches of the 1985 AA Missouri State Football Champion.

Small Team-Big Success

The talent of the 1985 B-team Bulldogs was overshadowed by frustration. Throughout the season the Bulldogs were playing less than twenty men, and the numbers got smaller as the season progressed, due to a few unfortunate injuries.

However, the daring few that remained on the team dealt with this numbers problem very well. They pulled off a successful season with the odds against them. They fought to a 4-1 record with three games left to be played. Their first five games included strong performances against Lutheran South and Lutheran North.

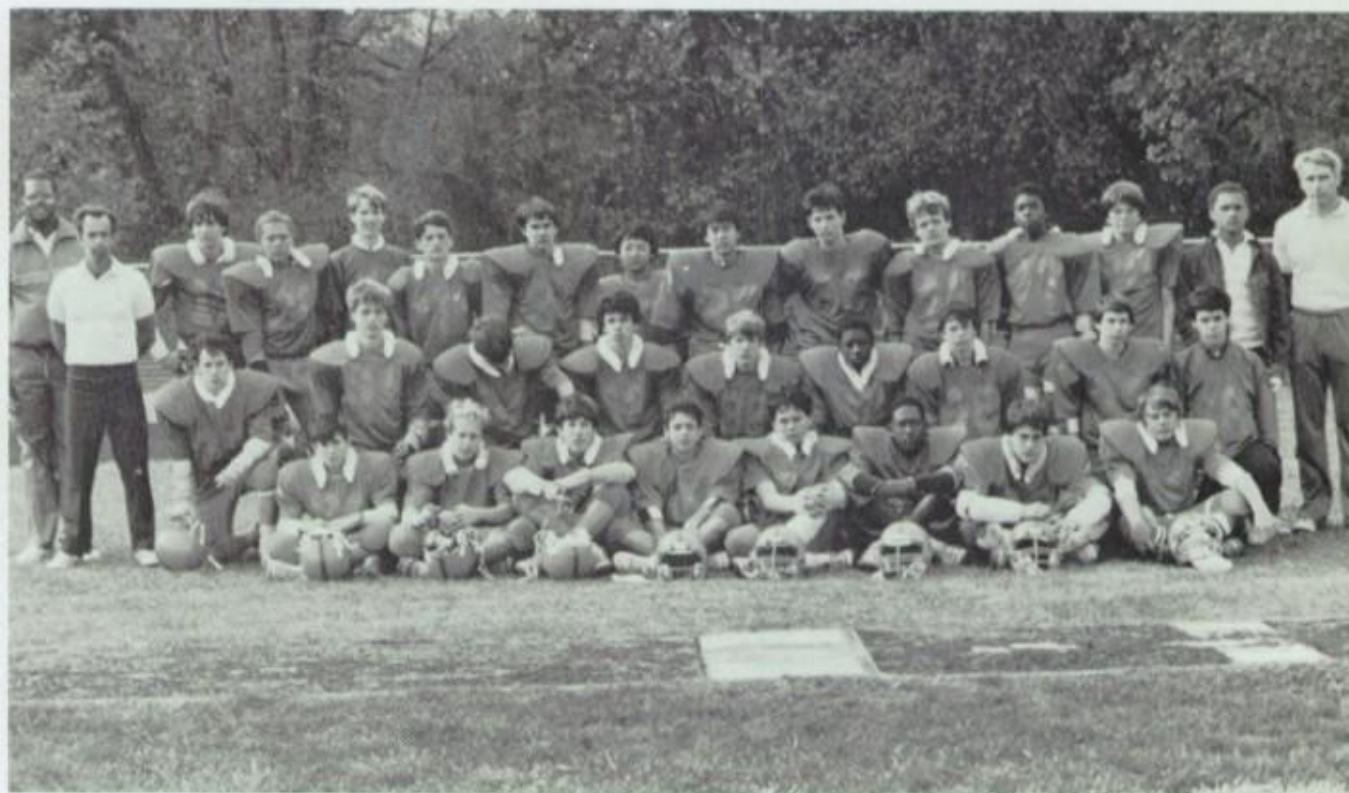

Things looked good for the Bulldogs going into the last three games of the season. But the team numbers got so small that coach Moore sent for help. He got it. Jack Rowe and Mike Grossi, two varsity featherweights, were brought down from the big leagues to help out the Bulldogs. The team then cruised to wins over Principia, Priory, and Codasco, but were forced to forfeit those games because of new team members Rowe and Grossi.

Both the team and the coaches should be congratulated for an outstanding 7-1 season (not counting forfeits) and the persistence to be successful despite the odds.

The C-team Eagles should be congratulated for their strong character and will to succeed. Under the persistent positive reinforcement of coaches Mike Black, Gregg McIntosh, and Mark Nicholas, the team was able to come back and win three straight league games after suffering a disappointing three game losing streak to open the season. With a league title in sight, the Eagles proceeded on to the last two games of the season. But in two close, hard fought games, the Eagles lost to Priory and Codaşco to end their season with a 3-5 record. Despite their record, the Eagles showed that they had the will and ability to come back from defeat and win.

Varsity Field Hockey

The 1985 varsity field hockey team had its share of ups and downs. Posting a 5-5 record in League play and 6-8 record overall, Burroughs suffered from one basic weak spot—the penalty strokes used to determine tied games. Of the eight J.B.S. losses, four came in this manner. Nevertheless, Burroughs was a strong contender among local area schools. The Burroughs playing style was dominated by disciplined defense; J.B.S. averaged about one goal-against per game. Two games to note were those against Villa Dueschne and Cor Jesu. Despite losing 2-1 in both match-ups, Burroughs turned in two great performances against the two top teams in the area. The sweetest victory of 1985 was that of the regular season confrontation with St. Joe. The team would like to thank coaches Skippy Keefer and Beth Williams and all of the supportive parents and spectators.

B Hockey

The jocks play B hockey; Not a team to mock, they beat the clock led by three senior jocks-sweet sweeper Metcalfe, power pack Burkemper, and jock Jaffee goaltender extraordinaire. Blue and Gold socked, fans flocked to watch B team "B" 'in HOT!

Team members included: B. Jaffe, A. Barrett, C. Metcalfe, H. Burkemper, C. Rava, A. Hoagland, B. Buettner, A. Koster, L. Collins, B. Street, K. Cornwell, K. Foster, M. McConnell, W. Dunaway, E. Saha, K. Hanser, and C. Parham.

— JV And C Field Hockey —

JV hockey had its most successful season ever with a record of 5-2-2, suffering its only two losses to Brentwood's Varsity. The team was led by captains Tsion Haile Selassie and Stephanie Edwards, Ilona Csapo, the superior goaltender and Sara Switzer, the team's high scorer. Team members included-Top Row: B. Mann, S. Gillis, S. Greenwood, M. Thompson, J. Hunter, S. Switzer, M. Kimball, S. Silberman, M. Graviss, Bottom Row: A. Wion, A. Baldwin, N. Robbins, K. Pittman, S. Edwards, C. Hughes, T. 2nd In Districts

The Varsity Soccer season was frustrating to say the least, but the team pulled together at the end of the season to take 2nd in Districts. After beating Country Day 6-5 and Priory 2-1, the Bombers lost 6-1 to Kennedy at Lindenwood College. The team ended its season with a poor 5-16-3 record, but this was a false indication of the team's strength. Except for games against Ladue and Prep North, all of the matches were close, and many were one goal decisions. The defense was anchored by seniors Chris Behrens and James Klahr, the midfield by Ted Hoagland, Mike Millner, and Ted Metcalfe, and the forward line by Mark Flegal and Paul Wright. Willie "shweetie" Hogan played both forward and half-back, while Scott Thomas and sophomore Chris Ottsen shared the goalie duty. A special recognition should go to junior Paul Wright who provided most of the team's offense. All total, Paul scored 30 goals this season, breaking the all-time record of 27 set by Karl Hoagland in 1982.

Harriers Begin To Make Waves

The Cross-Country season began in mid-August with a week-long running camp led by Coach Dan Barton that climaxed with a 13-mile "Shorter Run". This camp would set the tone for the rest of the season, as it involved a lot of work and dedication, but also a lot of fun. The two seniors, Tim Raichle and Greg Brown, were the spiritual leaders of the team, while freshmen David Drebes and the lone junior, Andy Newman, proved to be the speedsters. Unfortunately, Newman injured his foot halfway through the season and was unable to return; but Drebes continued and became the first person to go to the state meet since 1978. The team placed a respectable 5th out of nine in Districts, and with a young team comprised of only 3 upperclassmen, 6 sophomores, and 9 freshmen, Coach Barton, with his usual optimism and dedication, has good reason for high hopes for the future.

Outdoor Ed Survives

The Outdoor Education Otters had another fine year of adventure and excitement (that is to say nobody was seriously injured). Hiking, canoeing, climbing, biking, caving, poking, and surviving were highlights of the year, but cooking and eating ranked far above all other activities as the Otters favorite pastimes. John Burroughs would be proud to know that in the event of an invasion, some students would be able to survive in the wild. Bone numbing pain can only describe the feelings felt by senior Otters as they leave for distant ecosystems.

Bombers Gain Winning Season Again

With several key returnees from last year's squad, the 1985-86 varsity basketball team entered its season with high hopes of another successful year. Despite having only two practices before the opening game, the Bombers easily beat Brentwood and then managed a third-place finish in the Valley Park Tournament. In its non-league schedule, the team defeated Christian Academy, St. John's, Affton, Valley Park, Prep South, and Westminster Christian while losing to only Kennedy.

As usual, the team took part in the CDS Christmas Classic, and the Bombers were hampered by a small roster due to injuries and vacations. However, after a heartbreaking 51-50 loss to Orchard Farm in the first round, Burroughs defeated Clayton and then, behind center Bruce McDoniel's 31 points, it beat Valley Park to gain a consolation final berth. In a rematch with Valmeyer, Burroughs had won in the Valley Park Tourney, the much smaller Pirates scrapped their way to the upset by a 47-44 score.

The team was optimistic that it could attain a winning record in the ABC League as its schedule began, but in the end, the Bombers were disappointed with a 4-6 mark. The league opener came against Country Day, and Burroughs stayed with the Rams for three quarters before succumbing. Two more heartbreaking losses followed, to Principia and Lutheran North, before the Bombers found their way into the win column with a decision over Priory. Eventually, JBS upset Country Day and North, but it also lost to Prin and South, thus eliminating a chance at a .500 season.

In the districts, Burroughs downed Orchard Farm and was eliminated by Cardinal Ritter 66-60, ending its season at 16-11. The team was led by senior starters McDoniel, Bryan Keys, Scott Wilkin, Corey Jones and Russell Brightman, while Trip Stern and Fran Charles played key roles off the bench. In addition, Frank Gafford, Greg Mefford, and Brad Lemen provided depth at guard and Mike "The Italian Stallion" LiPuma was called upon for some late heroics in several contests. Overall, the team had a good time during a decent season and it would like to thank first-year coaches Mark Nicholas and Ken Rosenthal for their time and instruction.

Bulldogs Go 10-9

Looking at its 3-7 league record, one might think the 1985-86 Bulldogs had a poor season. However, many of the losses came in close games and the team managed to finish with a record of 10-9. Non league losses came at the hands of Desmet and Brentwood while the Bulldogs defeated Valley Park twice, St. Johns, Kennedy, Westminster, Prep South, and Affton in other non-conference games.

In ABC League play the Bulldogs proved that they could play with the better teams as they defeated perennial power Lutheran South twice. But one point losses to Priory and Principia denied the Bulldogs a .500 record in league. Individually the aggressive play of guards Mike Lurie, Mel Gaylord, and Bill Moore was the key to the Bulldogs fast-break philosophy. Forward Eric Small led the team in rebounds and scoring and David Lemkemeier, Chris Riley, Brad Penniston, and Mike Brody aided him in the front court.

Led by coach Greg McIntosh this Bulldog team managed to overcome some tough losses to produce a decent season.

Eagles Take ABC

For the second straight year, Coaches Denny Moore and Jerome Taylor led the C-Basketball team to an outstanding record. The 1985-86 Eagles opened their season in style as they trounced Lutheran North, Lutheran South, and Country Day to win the ABC League Tournament. Unfortunately, a loss to Clayton marred the Eagles non-league record, but they rebounded from that loss to take the ABC Championship with a 9-1 record.

Center Doug Bryant led the team in scoring while Andy Kerckhoff and John Mefford complimented him well in the front court. Vic Williams, when Mr. Moore wasn't lecturing him, and Alex Gafford, dished out numerous assists in the championship season. The only loss in the league came at the hands of North, but the Eagles managed to beat the Crusaders at North, avenging the defeat. The C reserves, which included John Simmons, Jon Hamm, Jim Conzelman, Andrew Shannon, Vance Weiss, and Danny White, managed four wins in league play.

Overall, the Eagles went 14-2 in completing one of the most outstanding basketball seasons at JBS. Coaches Moore and Taylor are thanked for their patience in making this season possible.

Ice Hockey

With several key players gone from last years' squad, the 1985-86 Ice Bombers faced an uphill battle as the season began. Due to the heavy losses in personnel, the team had to switch to a junior varsity schedule. Despite this, the Bombers still had many problems as they managed only four wins and a tie against eleven losses.

One of the most glaring problems came in a lack of numbers. Several games had to be cancelled or rescheduled because the team could only manage to field five or six players sometimes. When they did get to play, the team was led in scoring by junior Brad Lemen. That is, when he decided to show up. Three seniors, Bruce McNeill, Bill Longstreet, and Michael Millner gave the team a little experience while eighth-graders Bill Lochmoeller and Steve Williamson and freshmen David Drebes, Lathe Keller, and Kevin Michelson gave the team its youth.

The rest of the team members included Glen Walters, Scott Von Rohr, John Rueppel, David Hall, Leigh Hart, and, for a day, Andrew "Kid Lemieux" Coburn. In addition, the Bombers would like to thank Coach Joey O'Keefe and Justin Williamson for their time and guidance.

WRESTLEMANIA '86

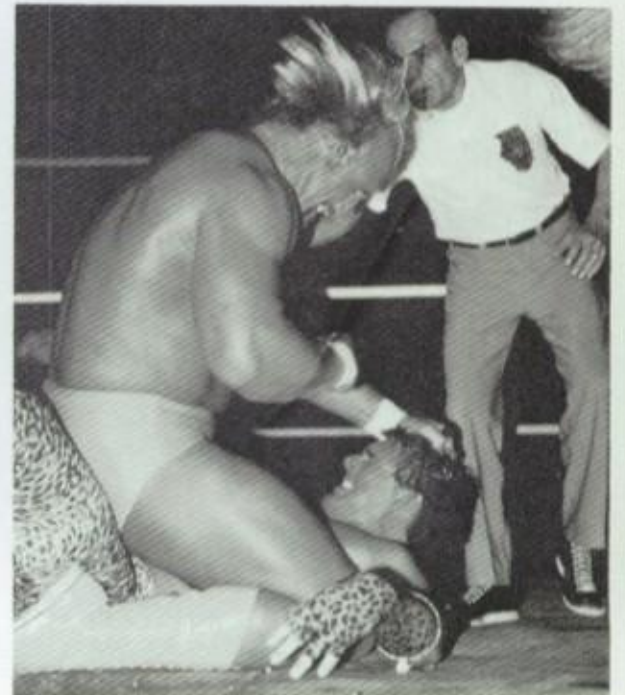

1st Row: A. Marshall, J. Woods, D. Essex, D. Newman, C. Ottsen. 2nd Row: D. Prather, J. Simpson, J. Giessow.

After experiencing surprising success from a young team in 1985, varsity wrestling coach Mike Black decided to upgrade the schedule for the 1986 season. Unexpectedly, the Sweatbombers were devastated when a number of Varsity veterans hung up their headgear and called it quits. With a tough schedule ahead, coach Black and his small team marched into wrestlemania '86.

Despite the small number of veterans on the roster the Sweatbombers have had success in many weight classes. Co-Captain Darcy Prather, though he stumbled early in the season, came through with a solid season and proved his leadership abilities. Prather was the only member of the team to make the state tournament. Co-captain Jimmy Woods, a sophomore, had the strongest season of anyone on the team, disposing of many opponents in a matter of seconds. The big story of 1986 was the success of darkhorse Joe "the link" Simpson who surprised the wrestling world with his first varsity victory, which he quickly followed with a string of others throughout the season, proving that hard work and determination are still the keys to success.

The entire varsity squad and coach Black should be congratulated for their hard work and poise through a tough season. It will undoubtedly pay off in the future.

Girls Varsity Basketball

Team Finishes 15-9

The varsity girls' basketball team once again produced a winning season with the help of coach Jane Ellen Kuenzle. The season was full of surprises as well as disappointments, yet the team pulled through with a record of 15-9. The highlights of the season were two close victories in tournament play each by a one point margin, and the surprising win over St. Elizabeth's Academy on their home court.

Overlooking the entire season, the team started off strongly, but illness and injury slowed their momentum and allowed for a string of five losses. The team ended the season on a highnote by defeating Cardinal Ritter, and were the second seeded team in districts. Strong and united again the team earned a rematch of last year's districts final against the number one seeded team, Brentwood.

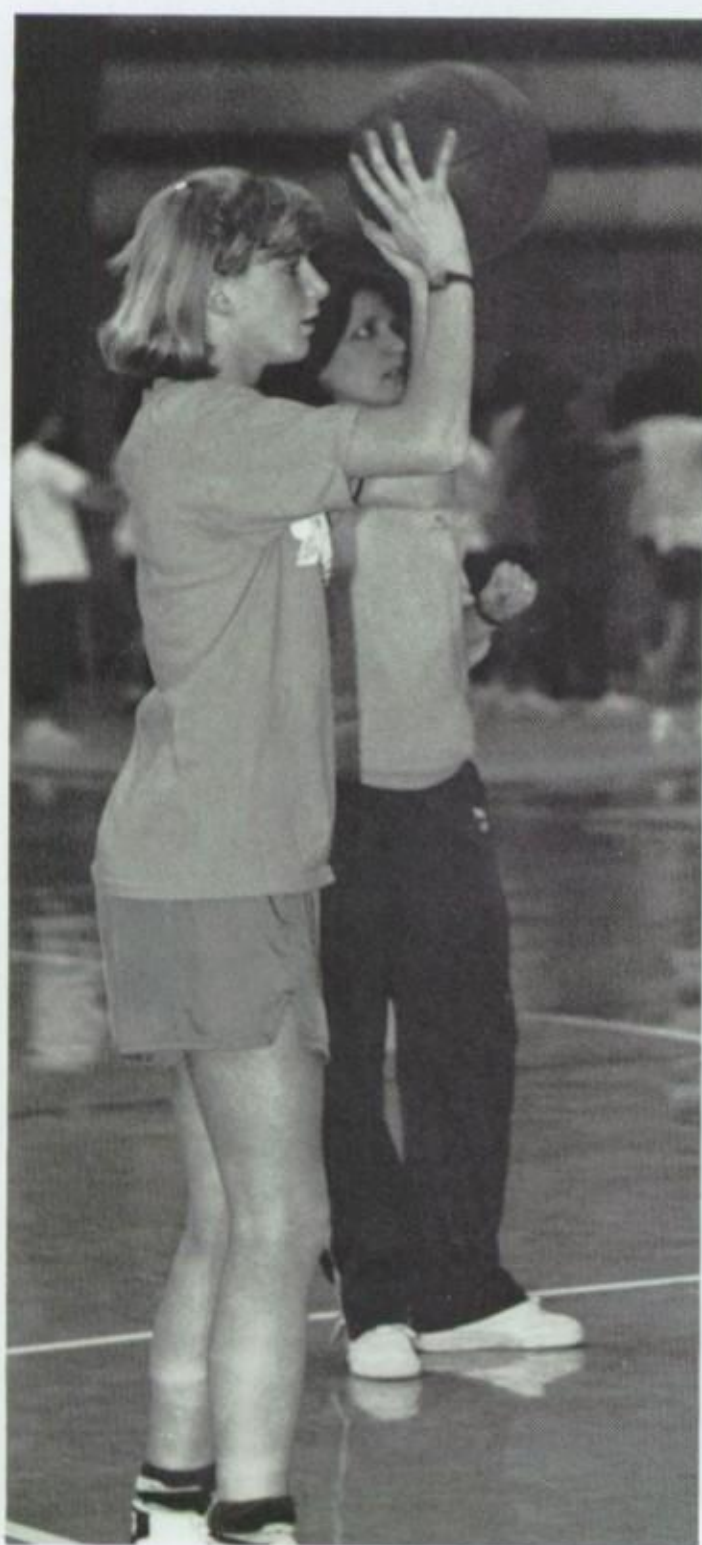

The team would like to thank its coaches Jane Ellen Kuenzle and Margaret Fisher (and EllaMae and Tissues), Suzy Jaudes our faithful manager, Mrs. Keefer, and last but not least the crew of parents who supported our team with unending enthusiasm!

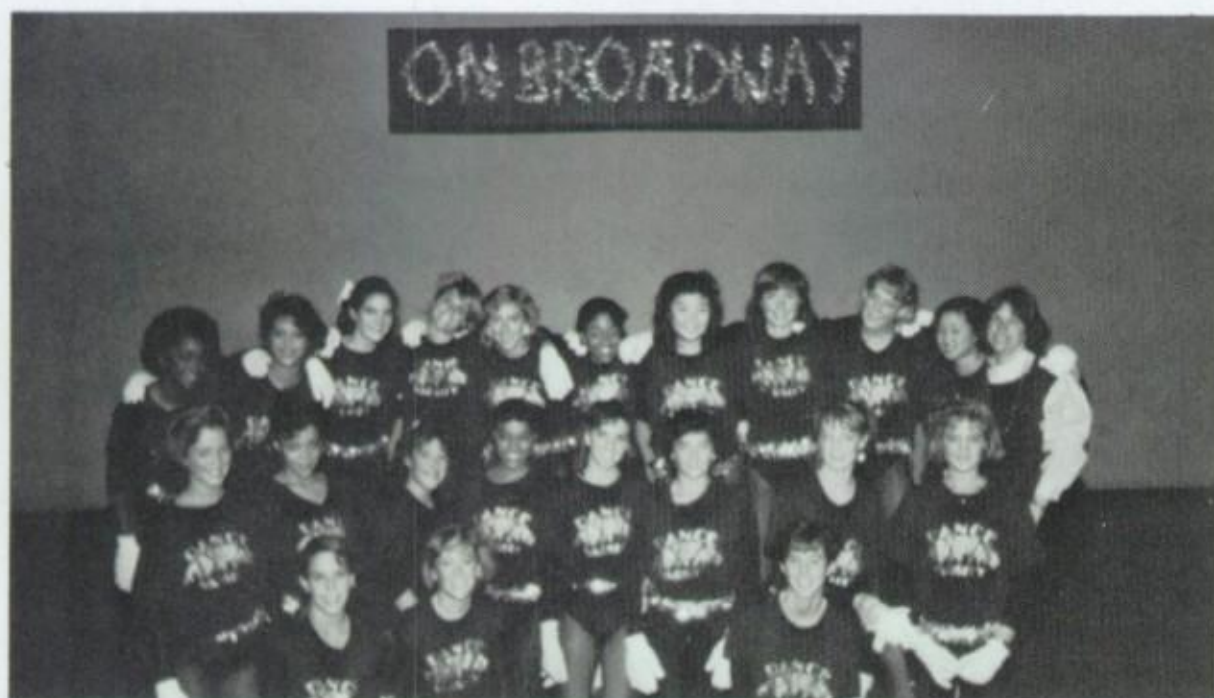

Girls B Basketball

The 1985-86 season proved to be a successful one for the girls basketball, B team. The spirit of the Coaches Margaret Fisher and Jane Ellen Kuenzle contributed to the progress that the players made individually and as a team. More important than their record of 7-7, were the improved skills that were a major achievement of this year's team. Sophomores Mary Kimball and Carmen Parham showed good leadership as the co-captains. Although the team suffered tough losses to St. Elizabeth Academy, Incarnate Word, and Chrystal City, they made up for these by their victories over Mary I, Clayton, and Principia. The team would like to thank their manager Suzy Jaudes and coach Margret Fisher for all their support.

Bombers Capture League

Right from the beginning of the season, it seemed that this team was destined. In the bottom of the seventh inning of the first game of the season, it was all tied when Bryan Keys came to the plate, Keys blooped a single over first base and John McRoberts scored from third to give Burroughs the win. From there, the team compiled a 13-4 regular season record, including an 8-2 mark in the ABC League, which was good for first place. Although the team had only two real pitchers, Rob Hibbard and Andy Katzman, they provided for an excellent 1-2 punch. Hibbard ended the regular season at 7-0 with a 2.7 ERA, and Katzman was 6-2 with a 3.6 ERA. When neither of these two was on the mound, the Bombers worried little because of their incredible offensive attack. Catcher Jay Williamson, who won All-Metro honors, led the team with a .521 batting average, a .945 slugging average, 7 home runs, and 36 RBI, all of which were among the tops in the area. In addition, Katzman hit .422, designated hitter Trip Stern hit .459, and Greg Mefford, Mike Pruett, and Keys each batted well over .300. On the whole, the team recorded a remarkable .354 batting average, which was one of the main reasons for the high number of runs totaled against Priory, Brentwood, St. John's, Prep South, and many others. But the success of the regular season was due to the combination of team defense, speed, pitching, hitting, and the coaching of Richard Heath and Jim Lemen; a combination that seemed unbeatable.

Playoffs

Bombers Roll In Playoffs

In the playoffs, Brentwood was the only team that seriously challenged the Bombers. Metro was the first opponent in district play and it was easily disposed of 14-1 in a game that was stopped after five innings. Next, Burroughs took the district championship with a 6-1 win over Winfield. The Brentwood Eagles were the next opponent and they were played at Brentwood Park under the lights. Things looked dim for JBS as the Eagles scored four times in the top of the first. But the Bombers, playing as the home team, got three runs in the bottom half of the inning when Jay Williamson unloaded a three run homer. From then until the seventh inning, Andy Katzman held Brentwood to one run while the Bombers had scored twice to even the score at five going into the bottom of the seventh. With Williamson on first and Katzman on second, Greg Mefford ripped a game-winning single to right field. The team erupted because now only Dixon stood in its way of a trip to Columbia. But Dixon proved to be no problem as the Bombers rolled 13-0 on the strength of a grand slam by Trip Stern and the shut-out pitching of Rob Hibbard. Finally, for the first time since 1975, Burroughs was back in the Final Four.

State Champs

And That's A Winner!

While visiting Columbia, Burroughs and the tournament countered a number of problems. On the second night of their stay, the Bombers were kicked out of their hotel following a few disturbance problems. In addition, the lights to the field went out during one contest, and a rain storm added havoc as the whole schedule was thrown off. In the end, however, none of this seemed to phase Burroughs. The semi-final contest was played against Pembroke-Hill of Kansas City, and only a few heroics by Katzman saved the team. After Hibbard had struggled on the mound through three innings, Katzman came in and shut out the Red Raiders for four innings. On offense, he broke the game open in the fifth with a key triple which gave the team its final winning margin of 7-3. Katzman's performance merited a story on the front page of sports in the Post-Dispatch the next day. Licking was the foe in the championship game. Katzman started on the hill and stifled Licking on just two hits and two runs, both unearned, in seven innings. Meanwhile, Burroughs took advantage of several Licking errors and misplays to chalk up four runs of its own. And when Katzman struck out the final Licking batter, the whole team began to celebrate on the field. The Bombers had come and proven that they were the best 2A team in the state. So here's congratulations to the 1985 Class 2A Baseball Champion John Burroughs Bombers.

Reserves Win With Veterans

This year's B-Reserve baseball squad was truly one which enjoyed both much success and many good-times. For awhile, the team even flirted with the prospects of first place. When the season ended, the team finished with an altogether respectable 4-6 record.

The team combined the skillful pitching of veteran southpaw Joe Simpson and righty Kevin Fujimoto, the consistent hitting of shortstop John McClellan, the speed of Mike LiPuma, and a solid outfield anchored by sophomores Kevin Bauer and Willie Hogan. Also contributing greatly were catcher Leland Russell, versatile infielder Matt McDonald, and a solid, hustling group of Freshmen, which should form a fine nucleus for next year's team.

The B baseball team, coached by Kenny Rosenthal, had its early season problems as it lost four of its first six contests. After a heartbreaking 6-5 loss to Country Day, the team began to get hot by winning its next four out of five games decisively, which included wins over Lutheran North and Priory. The team's offense was led by the middle of the lineup which consisted of Michael Lurie, Eric Small, and Nate Medoff, who hit .410, .460, and .510 respectively. The power was supplied by Steve Lochmoeller, who always came through with clutch RBI's and an occasional round-tripper. Jack Rowe and Mike Grossi snapped out of early season slumps to propel the Bulldogs to a 7-7 record with three games left in the season.

The defense was a little erratic in the infield, but nothing more could have been asked of the Bulldog outfield. Paul Wright resembled the play of Willie McGee in center field, and Jack Rowe and Chris Pruett left opponents bewildered with impressive catches and throws. Despite the iron-man performances of Eric Small on the mound, pitching proved to be the B-team's undoing as they dropped their last three games and fell to a 7-10 season record. The Bulldogs definitely had a successful season, and JBS baseball can look to a promising future.

Dynasty Crumbles In '85

For the first time in five years, the Burroughs golf team fell short in its quest for the ABC League title. The 1985 version finished a disappointing 5-5 in league play and 7-7 overall. Even though the team lost three of its top five players from 1984, players such as Jack Orchard, Tom Hetlage, Dave Mill, Jamie Sheffield, and Russell Brightman were returning. Bill Moore joined these five to give the team a solid foundation going into the season. Not surprisingly, the Stokers reeled off six consecutive wins, including three in league play. However, two stunning losses to Priory and Principia turned the whole season around. The team's performance in the district tournament was almost as disheartening. Only Brightman qualified for the state tournament as the team finished third overall. Brightman, who finished fifth, and Mill, who finished tenth, each earned All-District honors. In Columbia, things were about the same as Brightman finished in the middle of about 150 golfers. To end the season, the Stokers finished second in the league tournament at St. Andrews. Mill, Brightman, and Orchard did receive All-League honors to salvage the season, though. But the team can only look to the future and attempt to rebuild its dynasty. As always, the team is ever grateful to the members of Log Cabin Club for the use of their course, and to Dennis Moore, the coach of the team.

Boys Track

Track Finished 2nd In State

The 1985 Burrough's boys track team was, once again, led by the blazing speed of its sprinters. Inspired by the vocal, hard-working Kris Keys, and the silent leadership of Brian Small, the team was able to succeed not only in the sprint categories, but also in the long distance races and field events. Andy Newman, the rookie phenom of the '84 track Bombers, turned in sensational mile times all year, and was edged out of an opportunity to compete in the state meet by one man. In the high jump, an event in which Burroughs has not been noted in the past, Bruce McDoniel rose to the occasion and jumped to victories throughout the season. The long distance team of 1986 can look toward success judging from its '85 performance and the skillful matriculation of coach Dan Barton.

But the big story in '85 was the sprinters. Under the careful guidance of Gregg "push yourself" McIntosh, the fleet footed Bombers were able to capture second place in the state meet. While Small and Keys darted to victories in the 100 meter dash, and Small to a first place 200 victory, the younger sprinters, Britt Vaughn and Melvin Gaylord, and the veteran Lee Newman, also contributed to the team's success in the 400 and 800 meter relays. The strong showing of the younger members of the team makes the Boys track team certain of success in the future.

Girls Track

The girls Track Team was very successful this year due to the support and enthusiasm of each individual. The team members included: State Qualifiers-Laura Gartland, Marena Gatewood, Caroline Kraus, Shireen Kahn, Brandy Jones, Jenni Baker, Ann French, Beth Dunaway, Katie Hizar, Lisa Oldham, Michael Willis, and Suzy Jaudes. These qualifiers placed fourth over all in the State Meet. Other victories earned by the team were, First in the Brentwood Invitational and First in their District. Other team members were, Richele Bazile, Lisa Collins, Sarie Calkins, Katie Deuel, Tricia English, Emily Friedman, Kathleen Gerard, Caroline Helmkampf, Alison Hoagland, Callie Hughes, Jenni Hunter, Mary Kinball, Ann Koster, Arlene Maminta, Betsy Mann, Suzie McConnell, Carol Metcalfe, Hilary Musgrave, Laurie Ottsen, Melissa Pozsgay, Carol Rava, Claudia Rose, Mary Rosenthal, Sheree Stewart, Alyson Weiss, and Tory Weil. The team would like to thank Skippy Keefer and Margaret Goebel, the coaches, for a GREAT season.

Swimming

The 1985 Swimming Team enjoyed a very exciting season. The team "pool-hopped" from Ladue to Westminster Academy for practices everyday which finally payed off when state qualifiers Chris Sterkel, Leigh Earls, Katy Forsyth, Chris Johnson, Mary Lammert and Brooke Wallace placed 11th overall in state competition. Great performances were also made by Jennie and Melissa Graviss, who placed 2nd and 3rd respectively in the diving competition. Other team members were Katie Bitting, Kelly Cornwell, Margo Davis, Stephanie Edwards, Christine Freeland, Suzanne Gillis, Melissa Hall, Kara Hanser, Kathy Hesse, Muffin Jones, Kelly Loeb, Eva Saha, Jane Sommers, Maris Thompson, and Nancy Witt with Coach Beth Williams.

Tennis Gets An Ace

The 1985 Varsity Tennis season was a good one for both the team and the individuals. Coached by Ian Frederick, the team cruised to a second-straight ABC League title and a 10-5 record overall. The team was led by the two seniors, Trip Straub, who played second singles, and Dan Stolar, who shared first doubles with freshman Ted Walters. Juniors Mark Flegal, Guatam Sundarum, and David Melson will provide the guidance and experience for next year's team.

But the major story of this year's team was the success of sophomore Jason Mudd. For the second straight year, he has anchored the team in the first singles position. In state tournament play, he was able to advance to the State Finals, a remarkable achievement in itself, but came up just short. In the next two years, he will be a force to contend with, as should the JBS Varsity Tennis team.

B-teamers love the game so much they play in the streets.

The B-Tennis team was much better than it has been in the past, thanks in part to the six returning team members. Led by junior Chris Behrens at first singles, and Andy Shanfeld, Billy Freund, Mike Brody, Bob Bohlmann, and Dan Newman playing doubles, the team was able to overcome the much larger schools of Parkway Central and Clayton. The team also faired well in the ABC league, and was not taken lightly as in years past. Because most of this year's team will be returning, they look forward to even more success in the future. The team would like to thank Coach Bill Bascom again this year for his time in and efforts in making the season not only fun but victorious as well.

Varsity Softball

The 1985 Varsity Softball Team had a surprisingly successful season. Coaches Decker and Kuenzel enforced drills, strategies and conditioned the team that produced an exciting season. They placed second in the Valley Park Invitational as well as in the JBS Invitational.

JV Softball

The JV Softball Team members were, Suzy Koenigs, Gina Doisy, Susan Soest, Nichi Short, Pier Peterson, Meg McDonald, Susan Trioni, Sarah Wotka, Becky Street, Amy Robison, Alice Cohen, Alison Logie, Meredith Silverman, and Angie Wion. Coach Margaret Clark led the team to good season.

In Appreciation Of Sue Gray

Sue Gray came to Burroughs in 1980 to teach speech and drama. Before joining the faculty, Mrs. Gray taught in schools in Maryland and Illinois, and also worked in her field of specialty, museum education. With her experience in teaching, Mrs. Gray was able to fill the need for a seventh grade English teacher that year. She was appointed as the successor to Dora Tickner in 1982 as principal of the seventh and eighth grades. She continued to teach but also shared her commitment to the promotion of learning in the development of a study skills program for the lower grades. Her leadership as an administrator, the seventh grade class sponsor, an advisor, and as an organizer of Drey Land will be missed. For these contributions we would like to express our appreciation of Mrs. Gray and wish her happiness in the future.

In Appreciation Of Harry Bradley

Harry Bradley joined the John Burroughs faculty in 1969 as a guidance counselor and reading teacher. After his second year at Burroughs, he became Chairman of the Guidance Department, developed and taught the psychology courses for the upper school students. As an innovative contributor to JBS, Mr. Bradley helped develop the 7th grade Dreyland program in 1971, and served as its director for fifteen years, helped establish and advise the Family Support Group, and founded the peer tutoring program. Among his many contributions to the school, Mr. Bradley also devoted much time as a track official and sponsor to 9th and 10th grades. In addition, he has served as faculty advisor to The Yearbook since 1969. In 1979, Mr. Bradley became a licensed psychologist, and over the past several years has developed a part-time private practice in clinical psychology. It is difficult for Mr. Bradley to leave Burroughs, but in his words, it is time for him to pursue the "challenge and excitement" of his private practice. He will be missed in many ways, and we wish him the best in all his pursuits.

In addition to the great amount of time and effort the editing staff has put in towards the completion of the yearbook, there have been many people inside as well as outside of Burroughs who have really made the book come together. I would like to thank and express my gratitude to:

Mr. and Mrs. Ottsen- for letting us take over their basement, kitchen, (house?).

Chris Ottsen- for the pizza and sodas.
